

Existing and planned measures on the promotion of racial equality

Public Service Commission

The Public Service Commission (the Commission) is an independent statutory body which advises the Chief Executive on Civil Service appointments, promotions and discipline. Its mission is to safeguard the impartiality and integrity of the appointment and promotion systems in the Civil Service and to ensure a high standard of discipline is maintained.

Services
Concerned

- The public can access to the reports on the work of the Commission that are published on the Commission's website. The public can also make enquiries and send comments or suggestions to the Commission Secretariat through the phone, in writing, by email or by fax.

Existing
Measures

- Annual Reports on the work of the Commission in both Chinese and English are available on the Commission's website.

Assessment of Future Work

- The Commission Secretariat will review its services from time to time, with a view to meeting the needs of people of different ethnicities.

Additional Measures
Taken/To Be Taken

- The Commission Secretariat will encourage its staff to attend training to ensure that all services are provided to all members of the public equally, regardless of racial background.
